Laboratory testing for Florida residents over the past 2 weeks

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 4.21%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

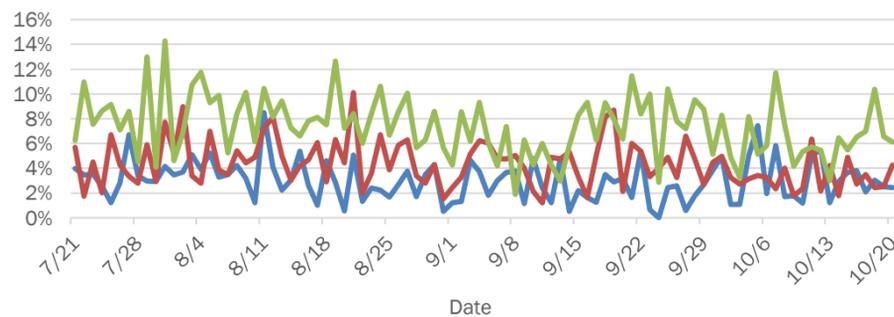

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 4.32%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

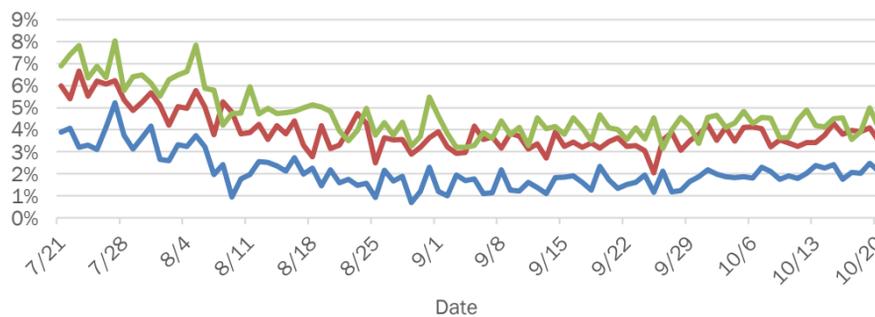

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 4.66%

Data in this report are provisional and subject to change.

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

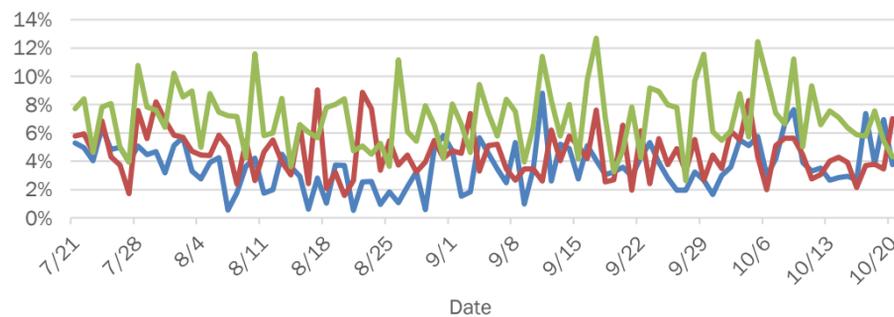

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 5.07%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

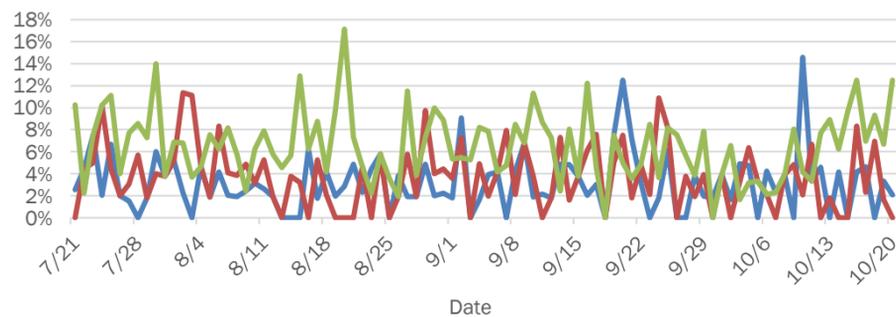

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 3.26%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

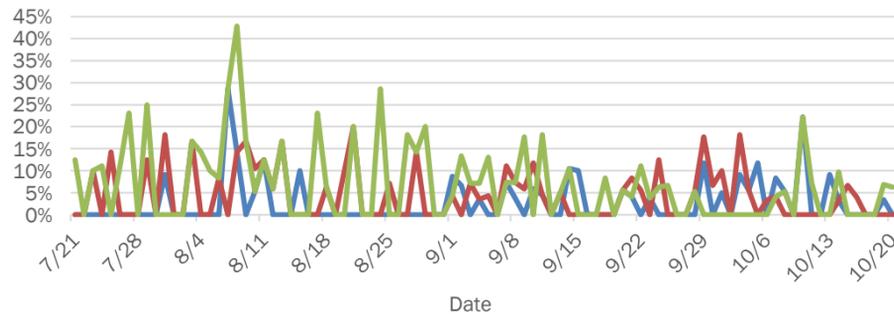

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 3.32%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

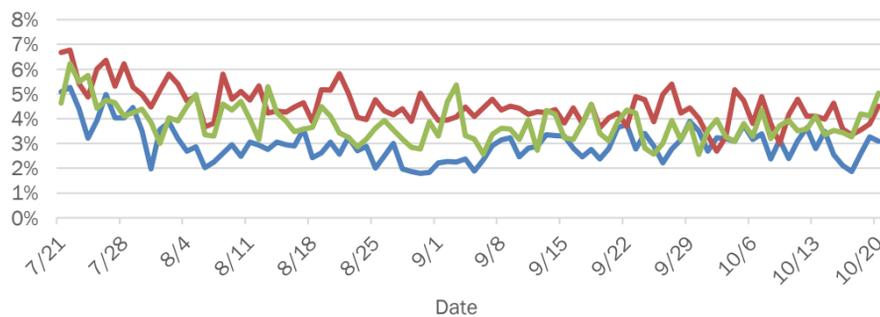

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 12.36%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

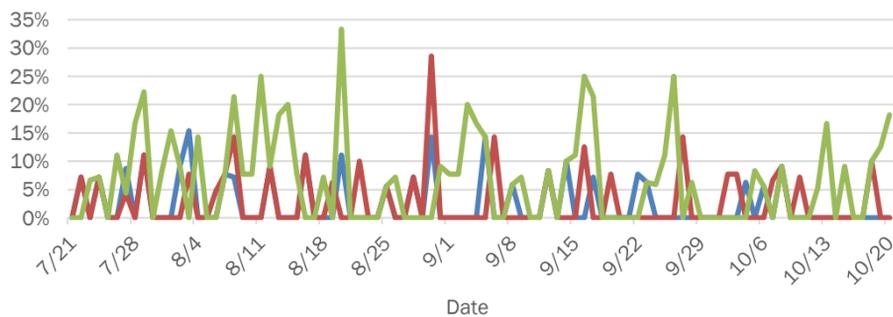

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 3.90%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

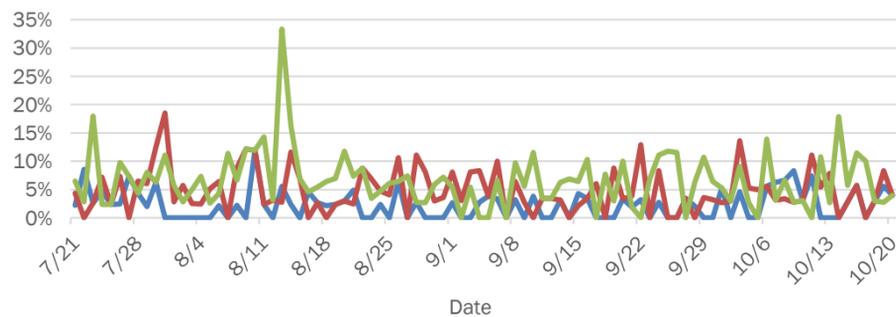

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 4.31%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

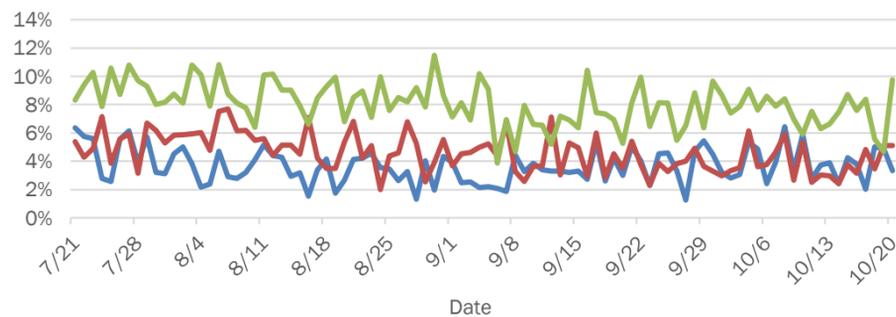

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 8.06%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

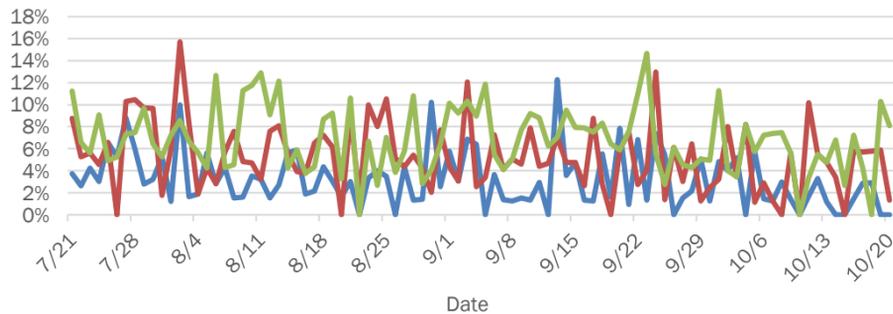

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 7.47%

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

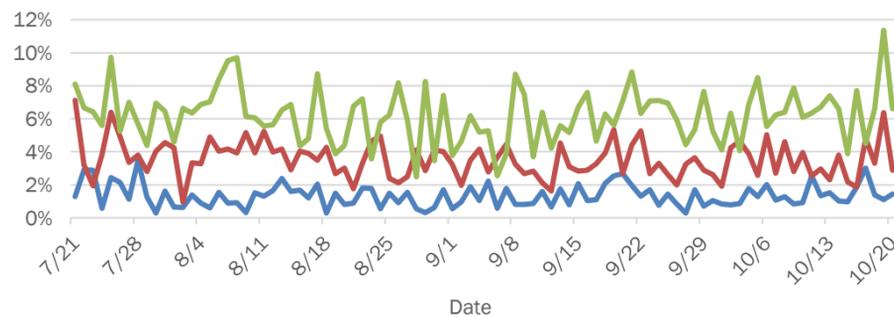

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 3.14%

Data in this report are provisional and subject to change.

Number of Florida residents who tested negative per day

These counts include the number of people for whom the Department received negative PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. People who tested negative on multiple days will be included once for each day they are tested. Negative results for persons who have previously tested positive are excluded.

Percent positivity for new cases in Florida residents

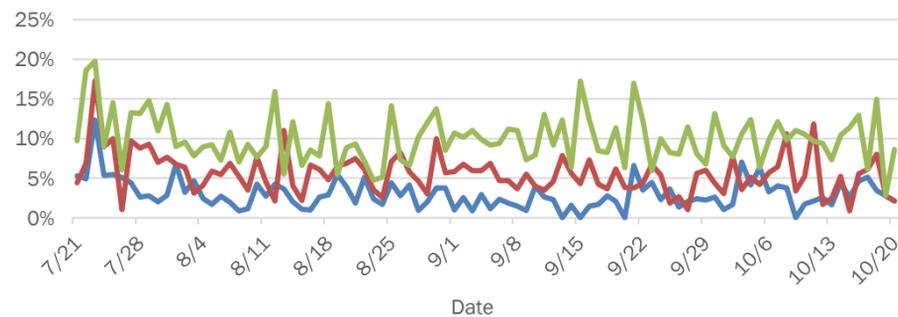

These counts include the number of Florida residents for whom the department received PCR or antigen laboratory results by day. This percent is the number of people who test positive for the first time divided by all the people tested that day, excluding people who have previously tested positive.

* A data dump of previously reported lab results prevented the reporting system from normal processing of lab results on Oct 9, causing an inaccurate representation of data for Oct 9 and 10. The most accurate way to interpret percent positivity for these 2 days is as a 2-day average, which was 3.56%
